Vanguard Systems, Inc. partners with UCG to offer Backup as a Service (BAAS) to clients

Enhanced scan, store, retrieve, protect, and recover capabilities now available to clients worldwide

INDEPENDENCE, Ohio (March 3, 2014)—United Computer Group, Inc. (UCG), an information technology services firm, and Vanguard Systems, Inc., a global supplier of Enterprise Document Management Systems, today announced a new partnership agreement. The new agreement enables Vanguard to offer UCG's VAULT400 Backup as a Service (BAAS) and remote hardware disaster recovery to clients nationwide.

For over 25 years, Vanguard Systems, Inc. has supported a diverse client base across the globe including several fortune 100 companies. Vanguard provides a suite of document imaging, forms design, workflow, data extraction, and content management solutions. United Computer Group, Inc., in addition to VAULT400 BAAS, has delivered value-based technology solutions for the IBM midrange market for over 27 years, serving 1,500+ clients worldwide.

David Engberg, President of Vanguard Systems, Inc. said, "This agreement enables Vanguard to offer clients a turnkey solution—scan, store, retrieve, protect and recover. The UCG VAULT400 offering will be available in SAAS, appliances, and software licensing depending on raw data requirements of 10GB to >100TB." Vanguard clients' data will be available 7/24/365 for immediate recovery of granular files or in totality. Options are available for remote hardware RTO of 72/24/12 or < 1 hour.

"We are excited and eager to move forward with UCG, a company that has had a noticeable impact on the IBM mid-market with its BAAS and remote hardware DR offerings," stated Bill Wilson, Vice President of Sales for Vanguard Systems. Vanguard's selection of UCG's solution was made after a comprehensive evaluation process from a variety of cloud backup and disaster recovery solutions.

"UCG is pleased to have been selected by Vanguard and look forward to being their clients' provider for a wide range of remote data storage and disaster recovery solutions. Vanguard clients will benefit and can leverage our knowledge to obtain a solution that best suits their requirements", says Jim Kandrak, UCG's founder and president. "With solutions that cover a broad spectrum, we are unbiased and can do what's best for Vanguard clients."
